ISECT VIRT CON 2021

Call for Abstracts

Dear Esteemed Life Members, My friends,

The spirit of enquiry and the thirst for knowledge are what make human beings unique from the rest of creation. Almost all of the advancements, discoveries and inventions have been made available to mankind because of these two qualities. Many pioneers have gone to great lengths of sacrifice, dedication as well as commitment to unravel these invaluable gifts intended to make human life more healthy, prosperous and continually progressive. What is even more important is that they chose to share their knowledge with their peers and contemporaries, thereby enabling transmission and updation of information.

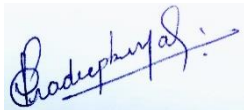

The Indian Society of Extra-Corporeal Technology was founded keeping these same tenets, of acquiring and sharing scientific knowledge as its cornerstone. It is on this basis that ISECT has been conducting annual conferences every year. These conferences have provided a platform for perfusionists in India to discuss, cogitate and update knowledge, ultimately leading to improvements in clinical practice. It can be mentioned with pride that Indian Perfusionists stand amongst the best in the world; the credit being in no small measure to the scientific information revealed in the conferences.

Unfortunately, with the prevalence of the pandemic and existing health regulatory advisories, physical interaction as is a part of the conference is not possible. However, the advancements in virtual interaction have ensured that knowledge and information can be transmitted without physical interaction. Virtual classes, meetings, etc are surely becoming the norm rather than the exception.

I hereby welcome my esteemed colleagues to join us in a new, virtual journey – ISECT VIRT-CON 2021. This conference will be conducted in a virtual environment enabling the delegates to access it from the comfort of their respective surroundings and partake of the continuous, flowing stream of knowledge, even while adopting the necessary precautions to keep themselves safe.

Earnestly requesting all life members to participate in this innovative virtual fiesta and make it a harbinger of better things to come. Stay Safe. God Bless.

Sincerely,

Pradeepkumar Pillai,
Chairperson, Organising Committee, ISECT VIRT-CON 2021
